FREW, CAMPBELL & HART, Wheeling, W. Va., cond-class matter ]

WHESLING, W. VA., DECEMBER 26, 1883. The Democracy and the Tariff.

The election of Mr. Carlisle to the Speak emhip goes far to make clear the party align ment of next year. The dominant sentiment of the Democratic party, as it is represented in the House, and by its stronger newspapers, is for free trade. Republican will not decline the gage thus boldly thrown down, but this does not help those Democrats who do not believe in free trade or those other Democrats who would like their party to go into the campaign with which had been insisting that "the Republican party must go," is telling Mr.

Waterson and his friends that free trade won't do. The Nashville American tells Mr. Watterson very plainly that his policy will have to be abandoned, and Mr. Watterson himself, flery as he is, seeing what a rumpus has been raised, desires to modify terms, though he sticks to the original pro-While the tariff bill of last winter was under discussion he wrote this very

"The Atlantic Constitution does not like the expression of 'tarin' for revenue only.' Well, let it get a better. We are inclined to think expression of 'tariff for revenue only. wen, lei't get a better. We are inclined to think the line, as far as it goes, a good one. But we are no stickler for mere phrases. We demand tariff reform, and we set our face in the direction of free trade. We would not give a pipeful of tobacco for a Democratic party which should go back upon the revenue record of the party. The Democrat who is not a free-trader should go elsewhere. He stould join the Republicans. No true Democrat can be a protectionist. The fiddle-faction in the Bouth should mislead no one. The Democratic party will make a free trade ght in 1884. If it loses it will make another in 1888. Domocrats who can't go it had better pack up and get out. The conflict between free-trade and protection is irrepressible and must be lought out to the propose neither to ak nor give quarter. We have but one political life and had just as soon lay it down on this issue as any other."

This being put at him now he pleade that ie wrote it "when the blood was up," and he explains that "we are not nearly so ho as we were." This is the baby act. Mr. Watterson's Courier-Journal has been quite as hot as that within a week. We continue to agree with him that "the Democrat who is not a free trader should go else In the same vein is this, from the Charleston News and Courier:

from the Charleston News and Courier:

The Democratic party must look steadily towards "a tariff for revenue only" as it goal. Nothing less will estisfy the people or justify the party. The insidious suggestion of the New York Sun that the choice lies between a "tariff for revenue only" and "tariff for revenue with incidental protection" is misicading and nonsensical. There cannot be "incidental protection" under "tariff for revenue only," because the instant that the tariff on any article becomes pro will be for many years some measures of pro-ection, but this will last only until the ariff shall be exclusively for revenue. When hat point shall have been reached there will be no protective duty of any kind. This is direct and frank, though it mean destruction of American industries The Richmond Dispatch goes the whole length of Democratic doctrine until it thes the tariff. There it balks. This is Suppose, now, it be determined to make a fight on the question of protection. How many votes can the Democrats draw from Mahone on that issue? So nearly none that the number would not be worth counting. How many Democratic votes could the Republicans command on that issue? We will not say how many, but we will say that nothing could save the Democratic party from defeat in Virginia but the refusal of Democrats who believe in protection to divide upon that issue. What folly, then, to be talking about fighting a battle for the Presidency of the United Slates upon that issue. The men who do that sort of talking don't know what they are doing.

The Sazinaw City (Michigan) Times is

The Saginaw City (Michigan) Times is another Democratic paper which knows what is going on, and doesn't like it. It says that the election of Mr. Carlisle plants "the party equarely on a free trade plat-form," and that "a person who does not Democratic party any longer." The Times

When another election occurs these men who threaten destruction of the $3,000,000, 000 now invested in American manufactures, and starvation to the 2,700,600 laborers oper-ating the same, will find out how falsely they represent the wishes of the American

These straws show which way the wind blows. If the Democratic leaders persist in their policy there is going to be a scattering in the Democratic ranks-for not all Democrats are free traders.

BREAKFAST BUDGET.

Colored Masons have six lodges in Connecticut, with 250 members. There are nearly half a million more men than women in Japan. A Georgia train cut eff the heels of a drunken man's boots and left him unharmed.

A creematory is to be built in Washington if a charter can be procured for the company.

A man in Flushing, N. Y., named Cornell, supports himself and wife on fitty cents a week.

A coon club in New Hampshire, after having been organized ten years, has captured its first coon.

Glass bath tubs, sinks, tanks, wash tubs, refrigerators and burial caskets are begin-ning to be talked of.

Santa Claus would get both nomi-nations if the Presidential convention were held this week.

The toy pistol is prohibited in Tennessee, but the full-grown man-killer in that State is frequently heard from.

The South Carolina legislature has passed a bill declaring unlawful all contracts for the sale of articles for future delivery.

It has been discovered from statistics that in Paris the number of typhoid fever cases increases after each heavy rainfall. A live snake fourteen inches long was successfully removed from the stomach of a woman at Binghamton, New York, recently.

A great many women are being cured of various ills by faith lately; but faith never cured a woman of wanting a sealskin sacque.

A benovolent looking old man obtained the signatures of Illinois farmers to petitions asking the legislature to to tax church property the same as tother property, and transferred them to promissory notes.

A New Hayan Conn. issualer has you

A New Haven, Conn., jeweler has received an order for a watch for King Kalakaua, of the Sandwich Islands. It is to be a massive gold chronograph timeplece of elaborate design and finish, with stop attachment and three dials, and recording the fractions of the seconds.

The fown of Antwerp recently ordered an examination to be made of the art treasures contained in the city almshouses. A number of pictures by the great masters of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries were found. About a hundred of them have been cleaned, and will soon be on exhibition.

FREARS OF PASHION.

"Finger cosy" is the latest name invented for ladies' muffs. Velvet flowers are the favorite garniture for Parisian bonnets.

Artificial roses, made of silk and satin, tre furnished for garniture to ball dresses.

Embroidered or hemstitched handker-hiefs are preferred to those trimmed with verlapping rows are worn with chenille rimmed wraps.

Velvet is used for everything in Parisdresses, cloaks, bonnets, and even the trimming of these bennets. Shell hair-pins with glittering Rhine-tions in the curved end are worn as orna-ments thrust through the coils of the back sir.

A basque and drapery of Gobelin serge, with antique figures and dull colors, are the newest over-dresses for velvet skirts.

Valenciennes lace is again in vogue for trimming evening tollets of silk and velvet, but the reign of Duchess is unabated.

The latest French hall drawses are tolled.

The fashionable silvery gray is called fumes de bois, or wood smoke, to distinguish it from the brown London smoke; the new red is rouge sangiant, or blood red.

Straightcoats, in old surtout style, are shown, made of black satin, sublime lined with ruby plush, and trimmed with che-nille applique bands and brandebourgs.

Silver clover leaves, covered with tiny diamond chippings, made to resemble drops of dew are among the new designs in fancy jewelry, the set consisting of a lace pin, earrings, hair ornament, slide and bangle bracelet.

The Parisians have given up the little knot of hair, twisted tight in the nape of the neck, and now twist all the back hair into a thick forsade, in the shape of a figure on the top of the head; in front the hair waved in bandeaux.

There is quite a revival in vests, plastron and chemisettes for lightening and bright and chemisettes for ingineting and bright-ening up dark toilets. Thus, it is very fashionable to wear a high necked plastron of dainty cream lace or fine embroidery over an under one of bright colored silk or eatin, with a dark dress.

Grops of air kinds were good date has assesson except corn. It was too wet and cold for corn. Feed is plenty and stock very high.

I spent two weeks at the county seat recently, attending court, and find the political pot is beginning to boil. I heard a prominent Democrat say that the Democrats had "played h—I!" when they elected Carlisle for Speaker. He said that that insured Rapublican success in '84.

Now, there are three things to do in West Virginia to bring her up to the proper standard among her saier States.

The first thing is, to "turn the rascals out," norse, foot and dragoons, with their army of reassessors, before our lands are all confiscated to pay assessors and to reinflures the stolen school fund. And it can be accomplished by bringing out a genuine ticket. With a good ticket the old banner county will go Republican to the time of twelve hundred majority. In the second place, the Old Virginia debt question should be settled without further delay, and if any part of the debt falls to West Virginia, let her meet it at once, and not have it hanging over the State like a bad case of nightmare, to scare immigration and capital from our young and rising Commonwealth and hinder the development of her vast wealth.

And in the third place, the boundary line between this State and Maryland demands immediate attention. There are valuable lands lying between the two disputed lines, which promise at no distant day to bring about litigation which will have to be settled in the Federal Courts, which will be attended with cost and trouble. That the old line is the proper one there is no doubt, and steps should be taken at once to establish it.

We expect to return the Hon. Wm. M. O. Dawson to the Senate from this district, and would be pleased to have the Hon. George C. Sturgiss for our standard bearer for Governor.
